

Rekt Dogs Whitepaper

Rekt Dogs is a no-bullshit NFT project that's here to be a part of your web 3 experience. Our core values of being adaptive, humble, and no-bullshit guide us in everything we do, and we believe that being true to ourselves is a vital part of building something meaningful.

A 10K collection aiming at developing a decently sized community. Not only allowing creativity to bloom, but also paving the way ahead for our gamifications.

What is Rekt Dogs?

Rekt Dogs is a PFP collection created by a diverse group of artists from around the world. These NFTs are inspired by the idea of “Rekt”, a term that is commonly used in the crypto community to describe a situation where an investment or trade goes wrong. By exploring the theme of “Rekt Dogs,” we believe that our NFTs will have a deeper meaning and resonance with our community of collectors. They will serve as a reminder of the ups and downs of the crypto world, and the importance of being adaptive and humble in the face of uncertainty.

What Are We Solving in the Crypto World?

Nothing. As much as we fancy the idea of changing the world for a better place, nobody ever truly does. We are simply doing what we do best — to draw with our hands, to build with our collective minds.

The crypto world is abundant with hype and empty promises. Projects come and go, leaving users high and dry. Not us. We make no promises that we cannot keep. We do not hype before we'd buy it ourselves.

The crypto community is facing numerous challenges that erode confidence, with new ones looming on the horizon. However, we are only interested in how well we are building what we are building. Anything that we unleash, it will meet our standard of excellence, and we trust that you will be satisfied as well. If you're not, we are more than happy to take you up for a constructive conversation.
